Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Dear sir/miss,

I am writing to express my opinion that the proposed settlement with Microsoft Corporation is not yet satisfactory. Microsoft has and continues to display a willingness to do whatever it takes, undehand or otherwise, to utterly extinguish all competition. While the sole ethic of a successful comapny is indeed to make profit, and while having not one competitor would certainly enable Microsoft to achieve this goal, it is most certainly -not- ethical with concern for a free marketplace based on satisfying the consumer through business competition.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Nathaniel Heinrichs
